Acknowledgments

The members of the Interstate Technology & Regulatory Council (ITRC) TPH Risk Evaluation Team wish to acknowledge the individuals, organizations, and agencies that contributed to this guidance.

As part of the broader ITRC effort, the TPH Risk Evaluation Team effort is funded primarily by the U.S. Department of Energy. Additional funding and support have been provided by the U.S. Department of Defense and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

The team was led by two state regulatory representatives: Thomas Booze of the California Department of Toxic Substances Control, and Michael Kwiecinski of the Colorado Division of Oil and Public Safety. Team leaders were assisted by Program Advisor Roy Thun, and his colleagues at GHD, Matt Smith and Monica Martinez. Team leaders wish to sincerely recognize the efforts of the following topic and section leaders:

Their contributions included leading smaller teams of volunteers in preparing each section of the document, writing and editing sections of the document, contributing and editing case studies, providing multiple rounds of review comments, and participating in multiday team meetings and monthly team conference calls. The team would also like to thank the approximately 240 team members who participated in developing the document. These included state regulatory representatives, stakeholders, federal agency representatives, and industry and consulting participants. A full list of individuals is provided in Appendix H. Their contributions were invaluable to the completion of this document. The team would also like to thank ITRC’s technical editor, Joy Drohan, and web layout/graphic designer, John Sours, who contributed to the final content and format of the document.
